ED IBARGUEN LESSON OPPORTUNITIES AND PROGRAMS

Where, How, and What: Lessons are given within a private teaching tee on the Duke University practice range. Lessons may be arranged by calling 919.681.2340 for individual scheduling. Ed has spent the last 34 years studying the history of golf instruction and teaching the game of Golf. By studying, learning, and observing the historically popular theories, methods, systems, and philosophies of the great teachers, he is clear on one thing: THERE IS NO ONE WAY FOR ALL STUDENTS! Instead he uses all of his knowledge and experience to teach the individual according to body type, physical abilities, available practice time, and desired golfing goals. Blend that with a mantra of, “If it’s not FUN, it’s not worth doing” and you have a combination that allows for individual success in learning how to become the best golfer you be. Depending on the student needs and the lesson objectives, Ed uses TRACKMAN Technology, JC Video & V1 Software Systems, Casio F-1 High Speed Video Camera, Apple iPad Video, and literally dozens of training aids when applicable.

Individual One Hour Lesson: $200

Small Group Lessons: (2) Persons: $170 ea. (3) Persons: $135 ea. (4) Persons: $100 ea. (5) Persons: $80 ea. (6) Persons: $70ea.
