

John "Jack" Clinton

John.Clinton@Duke.edu

Employed: (Since October, 2023)

Duke University Golf Club

Position:

Assistant Golf Professional

PGA Mentors: Ed Ibarguen, Chad Gibbs, Joe Plecker

I am a passionate and dedicated golf instructor who strives in making learning golf fun and catered to your unique traits. Since I am aware that no two human beings are the same physically or mentally, I believe, similar to Butch Harmon, that I teach people, not golf or a golf system. I especially enjoy providing instruction to beginner, junior and senior golfers that are looking to learn and/or better enjoy their game.

Having the fortunate opportunity to be mentored by PGA Hall of Fame Instructor Ed Ibarguen and his belief of striving to help every golfer "Get Better Every Day", I will help you develop your individual abilities and talents to greatly assist your enjoyment of the game.

As a former law enforcement officer of 33 years and a 9/11 World Trade Center Attacks first responder, I have always seen the game of golf as the absolute escape from the stresses of everyday life. Therefore, I thoroughly enjoy helping others succeed and enjoy the benefits of the game I love.

I am also a United States Bowling Bronze Level coach who has previously taught many junior bowlers so I may incorporate how golf and bowling instruction have many similar movements.