Rob Pilewski Lesson Opportunities and programs

I, a Pennsylvania native, and my wife, Avis, proudly parent two lovely daughters. I graduated with a major in Business Administration from the Professional Golf Management program at Methodist University (Fayetteville, NC). During my four years on the varsity golf team at Methodist, I achieved the individual title of the 1990 Collegiate National Championship, secured the individual runner-up position in 1991 and a member of the USA National Collegiate Team. I've distilled decades of golf knowledge into a philosophy of Fun First blended with proven fundamentals, drawing from a wealth of influences and continue to compete in PGA Section events.

Using my golf experience and competitive tournament success, I will simplify rather than mystify the game, translating its complexities into a teaching philosophy. Whether you're a beginner or an accomplished player, I am committed to providing you with solid fundamentals for improved confidence through thoughtful practice plans tailored to your success. My approach prioritizes strengthening your game skills around your natural abilities, applying that learning during on-course lessons to enhance stroke-saving game management.

My teaching and coaching methodology centers on the individual skills and physical abilities of my students, aiming to help them maximize everyday enjoyment of the game. I am confident that you can quickly develop true confidence in playing the game at a level matching your golfing goals. Join me on my lesson tee for fun and unique opportunities to elevate your game. For additional social fun, inquire about group golf instruction/training, including 'Sip & Swing,' 9-hole on-course play, and various creative and personalized coaching events for groups of 3 to 10 persons.

Lessons conducted within a private teaching area on the Duke University practice range. In addition, when advisable and available, the Duke University Golf Course will be utilized for skill development.
